Noble Environmental Power Upgrades to Mainsaver 12.8

San Diego, CA – March 10, 2017: Based in Connecticut, Noble Environmental Power operates several wind parks in New York and Texas. Since 2006, Noble has utilized Mainsaver Software to maintain the wind turbines, associated equipment and the spare parts for the turbines. In March of this year, Noble upgraded to Mainsaver Core 12.8 and added the Mainsaver Connect module for their mobile workforce.

With a fleet of relatively new equipment, Mainsaver was used to track the warranty on both the original capital equipment and also capital spares as they are moved from the warehouse into service. Corrective work orders are entered and scheduled in Mainsaver and preventive maintenance job plans are done on a 'demand' basis according to run times, current wind conditions and other factors. Technicians complete work orders, enter time and parts are charged out from the warehouses.

The addition of Mainsaver Connect allows the mobile workforce to retrieve any of the following data while at the remote sites on a browser enabled mobile device via a cell connection;

- Spare Parts availability
- Asset History
- Current Work Orders
- Photos or reference documents attached to work orders

If parts are not available at the local warehouse, the technician may search other locations for the required parts. Technicians may also create new corrective work orders if they detect an abnormal condition during an inspection PM.
